

What is the intent behind this privacy notice, and how does our Privacy Commitment serve to safeguard your information?

We value your privacy and are dedicated to safeguarding your personal information. This privacy notice is designed to inform you about how we gather and handle your personal data when you engage with our websites, including any information you provide when signing up for newsletters, making purchases, or participating in competitions on our platforms. Additionally, it outlines your privacy rights and the relevant laws that offer protection to you.

These websites are not intended for use by children, and we do not knowingly gather data pertaining to individuals under the age of 18.

Make sure to review this privacy notice along with any other privacy or fair processing notices we may give you on specific occasions when we collect or process your personal data. This will ensure you understand how and why your data is being used. This privacy notice complements the other notices and does not intend to replace them.

Use of cookies

We utilize site cookies to differentiate you from other site users. This assists us in analyzing our visitors' profiles, estimating site visits, and tracking clicks for particular campaigns. Cookies enhance your browsing experience on our sites and contribute to site enhancements. These cookies become inactive once your browsing session concludes.

A cookie is a tiny file consisting of letters and numbers that we save on your browser or computer's hard drive with your consent. These cookies hold data that is sent to your computer's hard drive.

Data Retention and Destruction policies

We will retain your personal data only for as long as necessary to fulfill the purposes for which it was collected, including meeting any legal, accounting, or reporting obligations.

Determining the appropriate retention period involves considering the volume, type, and sensitivity of the personal data, the potential risks of unauthorized use or disclosure, the purposes of processing the data, alternative methods to achieve those purposes, and the relevant legal requirements.

If you are an EEA citizen or resident, or if your data is processed in the EEA, under certain circumstances, you can request the deletion of your data. Refer to the section "Your Rights" for more details.

International Data transfers

At times, your personal data may be transferred from an EEA country to a member of the ITWP group of companies and our trusted service providers. These providers could be situated in countries that do not offer equivalent protection standards. Quantclix has implemented transfer agreements based on the standard model contracts mandated by the European Commission to ensure the safe transfer of personal data to entities in non-adequate countries.

What security measures are implemented to safeguard your personal information?

We have implemented proper security protocols to safeguard your personal data against accidental loss, unauthorized access, alteration, or disclosure. Additionally:

- Access to your personal data is restricted to authorized personnel with a legitimate business requirement.
- Your data will only be handled based on our instructions, and those involved are bound by confidentiality obligations.
- Procedures are established to address any suspected data breaches, and we will inform you and relevant authorities if legally mandated.

Occasionally, we may provide visitors with the option to voluntarily connect to other websites. Quantclix does not assess or take responsibility for the content or impact of the privacy policies of these sites.

Your rights

- 1) To access, update, correct, or delete your information, follow these steps:
 - Upon request, Quantclix will inform you if any of your personal data is in our possession.
 - Rest assured, we will address all requests promptly and within a reasonable timeframe.
 - You can access, correct, or request the deletion of your personal data by emailing us at or by sending a written request to the postal address provided in the Privacy Contact section below.
- 2) Data Retention

Once you opt-out from our mailing lists, we will cease using your personal data to reach out to you. However, as per our backup procedures, we will store your personal data until it is securely destroyed following our data retention and destruction policies. Rest assured, we will maintain strict security measures to safeguard your personal information.
- 3) How can I stop receiving marketing emails?

We and our chosen third parties may use your personal information to send direct marketing emails regarding our services. You can revoke your consent anytime by clicking the “unsubscribe” link in the emails we send. Please note that opting out of these messages does not affect personal data shared with us through purchases, experiences, or other transactions.
- 4) To ask a question or file a complaint, follow these steps:

Contact us inquiry@quantclix.com for any inquiries or concerns regarding the use or disclosure of your personal data. We aim to investigate and resolve complaints within 30 days.

You have the following options regarding your personal data:

- Request access to your personal data; an ID check may be required before we can respond.
- Ask for your personal data to be erased, corrected, or restricted if it is inaccurate or needs updating. In certain situations, you may request the deletion of your personal data, although this may not always be possible due to legal obligations and other factors.

- Regarding fees:
There is usually no fee for accessing your personal data or exercising your rights. However, a reasonable fee may apply if your request is deemed unfounded, repetitive, or excessive. We reserve the right to refuse requests under these circumstances.
- Object to the processing of your personal data if it does not align with the purposes outlined in this privacy policy.

What We Might Require from You

- We might ask for specific information to verify your identity and ensure your access to your personal data or exercise your rights.
- We may reach out for additional information to expedite our response.
- This is a security measure to prevent unauthorized disclosure of personal data.

Response Timeframe

- Our goal is to address all valid requests within one month.
- If your request is intricate or if multiple requests have been made, it might take longer.
- Rest assured; we will keep you informed in such cases.

Business Transfers

As our business evolves, there may be instances where we consider selling or acquiring additional assets. In such scenarios, Quantclix's right to reach out to you based on the information you voluntarily provided on our Sites or as part of an agreement with us may become one of the transferred business assets. In the event of a merger, sale, or transfer of a significant portion of Quantclix's business assets, the transition would involve an entity that agrees to adhere to the key terms outlined in our privacy policy. Rest assured, you will receive an email notification and/or see a prominent notice on our site if any changes may lead to new uses of your personal data that differ from what is stated in this Privacy Notice. This will inform you of the options you have regarding your personal information.

Updates to Our Privacy Notice

Any modifications to our privacy notice will be shared on this page in the future. Please remember to check back regularly for any new information or adjustments to our privacy notice.
